

Section	4 Distinguished	3 Proficient	2 Developing	1 Beginning
Claim	The claim is clearly stated. The claim directly references the situation described.	The claim is clearly stated. Claim directly correlates to the situation described.	The claim is stated, but is not clear. The claim does not directly correlate to the situation described.	No claim is made.
Evidence	3 or more pieces of evidence are cited from the activity in support of the claim.	3 pieces of evidence are used from the activity and are not cited.	Less than 3 pieces of evidence are used from the activity.	Pieces of evidence are used, but they are not supportive of the claim or are not from the activity.
Reasoning	Reasoning clearly justifies the claim and clearly elaborates on all of the pieces of evidence previously provided. There are no spelling or grammar issues in the section.	Reasoning clearly justifies the claim. The reasoning elaborates on only some pieces of evidence cited.	Reasoning does not directly or clearly support the claim or the evidence stated in the	No reasoning is provided or is incoherent.

Student Name: _____

Additional
Comments